"FREEDOM OF THE CITY"

The tradition of granting Freedom of the City to a military unit goes back more than three centuries. Throughout history there has been a strong aversion against the war-like appearance of large bodies of troops in city streets disturbing the peace and appearing to be a threat to the ancient civic rights of the city fathers. The custom first took hold after the restoration of King Charles II of England in 1660.

During the winter months, military troops camped outside the walls of the city. While the soldiers might visit the city's taverns during the day, they would return to their camp at sunset. Over the winter, the soldiers would gain the trust of their city neighbours. As the citizens became more familiar with them, they might then be conferred with "Freedom of the City" particularly if they had defended the city from an attacking enemy or performed some other worthy deed.

The Freedom of the City means, in the physical sense, the granting of the privilege for all time for a specific military unit to march through the city with "drums beating, colours flying, and bayonets fixed." It is a most prized honour, for it recognizes the honourable record of the military unit, and demonstrates the affection and esteem with which it is held by the community and the trust the citizenry has in the military to protect its democratic institution.

The granting of "The Freedom of the City" is therefore a private matter between civic officials and the specific unit. The decision to grant this symbolic freedom rests with the municipal authorities. While it is not unprecedented, it is rare for a city to grant the honour to a foreign military unit. "Freedom of the City" may also be bestowed on a unit of the Royal Canadian Sea, Army and Air Cadets, often to mark a long history of service in a community.

The ceremony starts as the unit to be granted the Freedom of the City marches towards city hall, colour cased and rifles carried without bayonets fixed. When the unit nears city hall, they are stopped by the chief constable standing in front of a barrier in the centre of the road. The unit halts at the barrier. The chief constable challenges the unit on its identity, and the commanding officer responds with the unit's title. The chief constable then calls for the unit to "advance one and be recognized". The commanding officer only, moves closer to the barrier.

The commanding officer, accompanied by the chief constable, then marches to the door of city hall. The commanding officer knocks on the door three times with the pommel of his or her sword. The mayor opens the door and the commanding officer declares his name and that of the unit. With the city councillors line up at the entrance to city hall the mayor reads a proclamation proclaiming that Freedom of the City is bestowed on the specific unit. The commanding officer accepts the freedom and returns to the unit and the chief constable orders that the barrier be removed. The unit fixes bayonets, and the colour is unfurled. The unit marches past, with the mayor taking the salute.

Once a unit has been granted Freedom of the City it may exercise its freedom on occasions arranged with the civic authority. The ceremony to exercise Freedom of the City is similar, except the unit may march directly to city hall with drums beating, colours flying and bayonets fixed. After the unit is challenged and identified by the chief constable, the mayor proclaims the unit welcome, inspects the troops, and invites the unit to exercise its freedom.

FREEDOM OF THE CITYPURPOSE

1. This order describes the policy with respect to the Freedom of the City. It supersedes CATO 48-04 and Canadian Forces Cadet Policies and Procedures, Article 404, dated 01 August, 1988 and is effective on receipt

GENERAL

2. The granting of the Freedom of the City is a traditional means for a municipality to honour a unit of the Canadian Forces, a cadet unit or a Cadet Summer Training Centre (CSTC). The granting is, therefore, a private matter between civic officials and the cadet corps/squadron or CSTC concerned, and the decision to grant this symbolic freedom rests with the municipal authorities.

3. Since the Freedom of the City is a municipal honour, cadet unit or CSTC shall not request that it be granted. The initiative shall always originate from the municipality.

AUTHORITY

4. The Director of Cadets, in consultation with the Director of Military Traditions and Heritage, is responsible for prescribing the policy on Freedom of the City ceremonies for the cadet organizations.

DEFINITION

5. The freedom granted to an armed and organized body is traditionally the authority to march in the municipality with "drums beating, colours flying and bayonets fixed". Since cadets do not possess colours (see CATO 12-05) and may not be authorized to have bayonets (see CATO 12-07), the wording for cadet corps/squadron and CSTC shall be "with drums beating, flags flying and

CITOYENNETÉ D'HONNEUROBJET

1. La présente ordonnance énonce la politique concernant la citoyenneté d'honneur. Elle remplace l'OAIC 48-04 et l'article 404 des Politiques et procédures des Forces canadiennes en date du 1er août, 1988 et entre en vigueur dès réception.

GÉNÉRALITÉS

2. La Citoyenneté d'Honneur est une coutume établie selon laquelle une ville rend hommage à une unité des Forces canadiennes, une unité de cadets ou à un Centre d'Instruction Estivale des Cadets (CIEC). La décision d'accorder la citoyenneté d'honneur est un geste qui n'implique que les autorités municipales intéressées et le corps/escadron de cadets ou le CIEC en question, et la décision de poser ce geste symbolique relève entièrement des autorités municipales.

3. Étant donné que la Citoyenneté d'Honneur est un honneur municipal, les unités de cadets ou les CIEC ne doivent pas en faire la demande afin qu'elle leur soit accordée. L'initiative doit toujours venir de la municipalité.

AUTORITÉ

DÉFINITION

5. La citoyenneté accordée à un corps armé constitué n'est en fait, par tradition, que l'autorisation de défilier dans la municipalité "au battement des tambours, couleurs flottantes et baïonnettes au canon". Les cadets ne possédant pas de couleurs (voir l'OAIC 12-05), et peuvent ne pas être autorisés d'avoir des baïonnettes (voir l'OAIC 12-07), l'expression pour les corps/escadron de bayonets (if available) fixed".

THE CEREMONY

6. The corps/squadron or CSTC to be granted the Freedom of the City marches towards city hall, in column of route, corps/squadron flag or camp flag cased and bayonets (if available) unfixed. As the cadet unit approaches city hall, the chief constable stands in the centre of the road to bar the unit from proceeding further. A light movable barrier may also be used.

7. The unit halts at the barrier. The chief constable challenges the unit on its identity, and the commanding officer responds with the cadet corps/squadrons' number and name or the CSTC name. The chief constable then calls for the unit to "Advance one and be recognized." The commanding officer advances to the barrier.

8. The commanding officer, accompanied by the chief constable, then marches to the door to city hall. The commanding officer knocks on the door three times with the pommel of his sword. The mayor opens the door, and the commanding officer declares his name and that of the unit. The mayor, accompanied by the city council, forms up at the entrance to city hall. The mayor then reads the proclamation proclaiming the Freedom of the City. The commanding officer accepts the freedom and returns to the unit.

9. The chief constable then causes the barrier to be removed.

10. The unit fixes bayonets (if available), and the flag is uncased. The unit marches past, with the mayor taking the salute.

REPORTING

11. Prior to the granting of the Freedom of the City, the following information shall be forwarded to NDHQ, Attn: D Cdts through regional cadets et les CIEC sera alors "au battement des tambours, drapeaux déployés et les baïonnettes (si disponibles) fixées".

6. Le corps/escadron ou CIEC qui doit recevoir la citoyenneté d'honneur se rend à l'hôtel de ville en colonne de route, les drapeaux engainés et baïonnettes (si disponibles) au fourreau. Au moment où l'unité arrive à proximité de l'hôtel de ville, le chef de police se place au milieu de la rue et interdit à l'unité de continuer son avance. On peut aussi utiliser une barrière mobile.

7. L'unité s'arrête à la barrière. Le chef de police demande à connaître son identité, et le commandant de l'unité lui répond en donnant le nom et le numéro de l'unité ou seulement le nom pour un CIEC. Le chef de police demande alors à l'unité "d'avancer et de se faire connaître". Le commandant avance jusqu'à la barrière.

8. Le commandant, accompagné du chef de police, s'approche de l'entrée de l'hôtel de ville et frappe à la porte trois fois avec le pommeau de son sabre. Le maire ouvre la porte et le commandant annonce son nom et celui de son unité. Le maire, en compagnie des membres du conseil, prend place à l'entrée de l'hôtel de ville. Il lit alors la proclamation conférant la citoyenneté d'honneur à l'unité. Le commandant signifie son acceptation et retourne prendre position avec son unité.

9. Le chef de police demande d'enlever la barrière.

10. On fixe ensuite les baïonnettes (si disponibles) et on dégaine le drapeau. L'unité défile ensuite devant le maire qui reçoit le salut.
